Deer Mrs. Bradford,

Because you deprecate your beautiful State, I must talk you a story about my one visit to it in 1937. I'd just had an eye operation, and one of them wasn't working too well and was very bloodshot. I had an old 1937 Plymouth that began to overheat seriously as I got near Bath on my way to Seal Harbor. I waited for an hour or more in a General Motors garage and no one was interested in making a repair. Finally I asked when a one would get to it. It was then well after dark.

Bacause I had Washington tags I was told probably never; that nothing nothing and nobody from Usshington was welcome there and so far as they were concerned anywhere. Bo I expressed myself with some fluency and limped into Seal Harbor that night, over roads that were being built or repaired. On the way back I stopped off at the first garage I saw, a small one and appearantly a one-man operation. I told Him I was from Fashington, not at all ashamed of it if it was any of his concern, and would he care to lookest my tar. He wanted to know why and I told him. So he chuckled, was quite talkstive, improvised a gasket, which is all that was needed, and when he was finished, refused to take a cent. He wanted one Washingtonian that all the people of Maine were not like painted.

An hour later I was, as boys do, highballing down the road when I was stopped by a policemen. I was doing 80 miles an hour and had visions of steel bars. The cop, hewever, merely insisted I had passed him without signaling and wanted me to know that was not permitted in Maine.

Add these two incidents to your beautiful scenary and you see why I think yours is a wonderful State.

I do hope I can get there again, perhaps to speak on this subject. The day may come when a TV station might be interested. They usually fly you there and usually pay nothing but expenses.

Cite story about your son! Sure, I'm probably high on a number of hete lists. Nothing will happen. If I feered it would, or feered that more than I feered not doing what I've done and am doing, I'd never have started. The one time I die will be too soon. Until then I've no concern over it. There is too much that I cannot do that I went to, so I spend my worrying time thinging and working. That inclreases my workday no end. But thanks for your good wishes. One nice bedy in Indians has a similar feer. She got a t. Christopher's medal, had it blessed and sent it to me asking that I wear it for bother har and me, for she is satisfied that at least as I travel I'lly be lacked out for. I immediately got a chain, keeping it in my wallet until then, and I've not had it off since. It is a constant reminder of the obvious responsibilities and of the so many wonderful people who trust in and worry over me. I don't think she'll ever know how much I chersih her blessing.

Thanks for your interesting letter. Sincerely,
